III. Procedure of Submission of Objections.

In application of the general right of petition but also the principle of transparency and sound administration, an objection may be lodged against this table within a limited period of five (5) working days starting from the day following its publication in the Programme website (http://eeares.cres.gr/eng/index_eng.htm).

The objection against the table shall be lodged with a relevant letter at the following e-mail address xm-eox@cres.gr. The submitted objections against the table will be examined by the special Committee for the Examination of Objections (a secondary body, other than the one that made the original selection) of CRES. The Commission's findings shall be announced by CRES to the objectors in writing, within ten (10) days from the date of expiry of the above exclusive period for lodging objections.

CRES shall conclude a contract with the selected Reviewers immediately after the establishment and suspension of the table on the Programme's website. In case objections against the table are well received, CRES shall proceed to its revision. Reviewers who will leave before their contract expires shall be replaced by others, registered and available from the table of non-successful candidates – depending on the current needs of the GR-Energy Programme.

In any case, the Reviewers who will be selected, either following a reformation of the above table or as a replacement of Evaluators who left, shall be employed for the remaining period, where applicable, and until the approved contract period is reached, in accordance with the GR- Energy Programme's current needs.
